Atterbury Gets Lindbergh
The President's Veto
Turtle and Man
Sing, and Be Well

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
The important air news is Lindbergh's appointment as chief pilot of the air mail company to carry mail across the continent in Pullman cars, airplanes by day, in 48 hours. That Lindbergh deal is a triumph for General Atterbury, head of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who visited New York last Friday.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE vetoes the McNary-Haugen bill, pronouncing it unconstitutional. The president says it would allow farmers to sue for damages instead of suing for their own farm problem, and would allow them to sue for damages for the loss of their property.

EVERY year for 22 years Howard Atterbury's turtle and turtle have been making a journey of 100 miles, returning home in the summer.

EVOLUTIONISTS tell you that monkeys, migrating from damp, low ground, uphill toward the mountains with front legs higher than hind legs, gradually learned to stand upright. And in consequence men now walk upright and look at the stars instead of the ground.

MIMI REGGIO, opera singer, climbed the 1,535 steps of New York's Washington Building in 13 minutes 4 seconds, beating previous records. Twenty-eight years old, weight 104 pounds, the woman earned $10,000 by climbing and did a useful thing by improving the health value of singing.

ENGLAND'S king and queen have been in a American girl of whom her country may be proud. Miss Ruth Hoyer, presented at court last night, showed a compound intelligence, and her work proves it.

A YOUNG woman of such rare intelligence and talent should be married, and mother of many children. That, of course, is her business, not ours. For women unfortunately often lose their children out of the world.

THAT war gas explosion in Ham-burg becomes more interesting to Americans. Chicago's stockyards will be interested to know one single gas tank exploding can make it necessary to burn all foodstuffs within FIVE MILES OF THE EXPLOSION.

WHEN a plane goes wrong, passengers carry passengers safely to earth. This column suggested, two or three years ago, that one big parachute might save a falling plane with all its passengers, making individual parachutes jumping unnecessary.

YESTERDAY, at Tracy, Cal., the thing was done. Pilot McKee stopped his engine 2,300 feet up, released a small parachute, which then released a big parachute, of "bi-plane" type, with silk canopy seven-and-a-half feet wide.

ONE blast, one underground explosion, one cave-in kill miners West Virginia, Kentucky and Nevada. And they have been abandoned for more than 100 miners in the Mother mine in Pennsylvania.

Those that, from comfortable offices, advise increase of miners' wages above the line of necessity would not be to do the miners' work.

CHICAGO RED CAPTURED IN MIDDLE FOR OFFICIALS
Moline, Ill., May 24.—Four short-statured "Chicago Red" men, southern "bad men" who came from Huntington, W. Sheridan is wanted in the southern states for arrest with intent to kill and seven other felony charges.

MORE SPEED IS REQUESTED IN PAVING WORK

W. Center-st Merchants File Complaint with Mayor Hazen

BUSINESS HANDICAPED

Unnecessary Delays in Improvement Project Alleged in Protest

Objection to what they believe is unnecessary delay in the work of widening and repaving W. Center-st, a group of merchants having stores on the street called on Mayor Earl Hazen at his office in the City Hall yesterday afternoon with a friendly protest against lack of speed in the work.

The entire street being blocked is interfering seriously with their business, they told the mayor. One merchant is said to have reported several days ago that his daily receipts had dropped from $100 to $25 a day since the street has been closed.

Mayor Hazen said he believed the contractors were doing all they could to hurry the work along and suggested that the merchants get in touch with P. Drake & Sons, who have the contract, in order to learn what might be done to hurry up the improvement, at least to the extent that one side of the street might be open to traffic.

Henry Drake, one of the contracting firm, who it was said had been invited to attend the meeting, was not present.

In conversation with one of the merchants later, however, Mr. Drake is said to have assured him that the south side of the street would be cleared within the next three weeks, when the new car tracks would be completed and the temporary track removed from the south side of the street.

Merchants from as far east as Prospect, who were in the group calling on the mayor yesterday afternoon, said an effort had been made to have the State Highway Department reroute traffic through the city in order that it might be brought nearer to Center-st.

While assuring the merchants of a desire to cooperate in every way, the state department expressed the belief that it would not be practical to change the route.

Removal of the street car tracks will be the first part of the new street to be completed. Excavation for the track foundations has been completed and rolled with a steam roller preparatory to the placing of the stone which will form a base for the 12 inches of concrete upon which the new track will rest.

BANK BANDITS KILL TWO, MAKE ESCAPE

Intensive Manhunt Started for Five Men; Cash and Bonds Taken

Denver, May 24.—Southern Colorado was engaged today in an extensive manhunt for bandits, believed to be five in number, who held up the First National Bank at Lamar, Colo., killed Mrs. J. B. Harris, 75, president and Mrs. John F. Harris, 72, cashier, and made away with approximately $7,000 in cash and between $100,000 and $200,000 in Liberty Bonds and other securities.

Three national guard airplanes, 300 automobile loads of armed men and police officers of all towns in the southern part of the state were searching frantically for the bandits. According to reports, the bandit car was seen in Trinidad, Colo., where the robbers held up a drug store and demanded $250. Mrs. J. B. Harris, owner, told the woman of one of the robbers. Mrs. Harris said the man was shot in two places and she believed him to be dying.

E. A. Lundgren, teller of the robbed bank, who was kidnapped by the thugs, was released two miles from Lamar because, Lundgren said, the bandits said he had only one arm and he was too good to them. E. A. Keisinger, the second teller who also was kidnapped, has not escaped, it is believed.

COUNTY BOARD AWAITS RULING FROM TURNER

Action on Recorder's Report Up Temporarily; Examiners File Report

A full in the proceedings to provide the county with a recorder to replace Charles E. Smith, who mysteriously disappeared nearly a month ago, was in prospect today as the Board of County Commissioners waited for a ruling from Attorney General Edward C. Turner as to the proper procedure to follow.

Reminding of the street car tracks to be the first part of the new street to be completed. Excavation for the track foundations has been completed and rolled with a steam roller preparatory to the placing of the stone which will form a base for the 12 inches of concrete upon which the new track will rest.

Some stone has been placed, but this work is delayed by the digging of trenches for laterals to connect the catch-basins on the south side of the street with the new storm water sewer completed. It is believed the work of rebuilding the tracks will go forward.

Possibilities For Plane Passenger Carrying in U. S. Great, Declares Lindbergh

Lone Eagle Asserts He Would Like To See Nation Taking Lead in All Branches of Aviation; Germany Shows Way at Present, Figures Reveal

New York, May 24.—"I would like to see the United States take the lead in all branches of aviation—including passenger carrying," said Charles A. Lindbergh, the famous young flyer who has accepted the position of chairman of the technical committee of the newly-organized Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc. This $5,000,000 corporation will within a few months begin operating a railroad-and-airplane passenger service from New York to California, cutting down travel time between these points to 48 hours.

The possibilities for development of passenger carrying by air are great in this country, said Lindbergh. "I'm going to assist the new organization in every way possible."

Not only Lindbergh, but other prominent leaders in aviation, see tremendous possibilities in the rail-plane method of travel, viewing it as a big, practical step toward inducing the general public to see airplanes. Significance is attached, too, to the fact that two big railroads—the Pennsylvania and the Atchafalaya, Toledo & Santa Fe—and two well-known airplane companies are behind the project.

Aviation is not subsidized in this country as in Europe, the American railroad service between important points, such as Chicago and New York, is so efficient that the airplane could not have any large amount of time except by night flying, for which it is not yet completely adapted; and on the American continent a transcontinental train is not halted by the exigencies of traffic barriers and customs duties.

In Europe, however, transportation by airplane is now a regular system of travel, operating according to time tables and in all kinds of weather. Fares have been reduced to a point where they are now about equal to that of a train.

COOLIDGE LASH OF FARM BILL TO PUSH FIGHT

Real Battle Promised Kansas City Convention When Nominations Open

SAY "DRAFT" ENHANCED

Coolidge Policies Must Be in Platform; Candidate Proves Worry

BY GEORGE K. HOLMES
Star Staff Writer

Washington, May 24.—President Coolidge's stinging rebuke of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill and the political effect thereof was both debated in Washington today.

"It turns the middle west to Al Smith if Herbert Hoover is the Republican nominee at Kansas City," asserted the more radical Republican spokesmen for the midwest grain belt.

"It does nothing of the kind," retorted their more conservative eastern brethren. "The middle west is traditionally Republican and will remain so. And if any losses are sustained there they will be made up by gains in other sections where the president's action is understood and appreciated."

In between the two extremes the discussion waxed hot and heavy whenever two or more politicians met. There were, however, some broad conclusions upon which there was general agreement, to wit:

President Hoover's endorsement of the McNary-Haugen bill has emboldened the possibility of his being drafted at Kansas City.

Herbert Hoover's path to the nomination has been rendered infinitely more difficult, and his election, if nominated, has been made correspondingly more difficult.

The anti-Hoover allies have been given a new foothold from which to direct their assault on Hoover in particular and upon the agrarian policy of the administration in general.

Respectful of what is nominated at Kansas City.

REPORT FILED BY COMMITTEE ON CITY FUNDS

Details of Gasoline Tax Expenditures Submitted to Auto Club

COMPARISONS MADE

Expect Analysis of Accounts To Be Referred to Marion Civic Association

An analysis of expenditures from Marion's street repair and maintenance fund, particularly in relation to money received from the gasoline tax, is given in a report filed with the Marion Auto Club yesterday by a committee appointed to investigate reports that the gasoline revenue was not being spent strictly in accordance with provisions of law.

The report, it was stated, will probably be referred to the Marion Civic Association. Members of the Auto Club committee which prepared the report are M. L. McDaniel, chairman, E. W. Wood and C. H. Stoll. The figures and comments accompanying a number of the tabulations cover a period of about two and a half years.

The tabulations provide a comparison for the period between expenditures from the street repair and maintenance fund and the service fund of the city, the totals including transactions from June 14, 1925 to the close of 1927.

Street repair and maintenance expenditures totaled $153,559.22 and service fund expenditures, $101,549.24.

The committee says it understands "the law provides that the $153,559.22 expended from the street repair and maintenance fund should have been for the sole purpose of maintaining and repairing streets."

High School Music Groups Ready For Annual Concert to Be Given Friday Night

Final Arrangements Made for Program Planned Under Direction of Howard M. Temple; Band, Orchestra and Glee Clubs Will Participate

Final arrangements have been made by Howard M. Temple, supervisor of music in the Marion Public Schools, for the annual concert of Harding High School's musical organizations at 8:15 o'clock Friday night, May 25, at Chautauque Pavilion, Garfield Park.

The program will include numbers by the school band, orchestra, a mixed chorus and the boys' and girls' glee clubs with Leonard Barker featured as trombone soloist. Other participants will be Miss Elma Sage and Robert Knauss.

The opening number will be the March from "Athalie" by Mendelssohn, sung by the mixed chorus with orchestra accompaniment. The orchestra will play "Valse des Fleurs" by Tchaikovsky, and the Girls' Glee Club will sing, "Indian Dawn." Room and Zamenik with violin and flute obbligato by Miss Anna Von Endt and Richard Carlson.

As the fourth number the band will play two selections, "Victory Overture" Emil Ancher, and "March Revere" by John Philip Sousa. Mr. Barker will play the "East Chord," Arthur Sullivan, with orchestra accompaniment, after which the forepart of the program will be brought to a close with two numbers by the Boys' Glee Club, "Old Black Joe," Foster, in an arrangement by Jerome, and "On the Sunny Side," David Nyxell.

Two numbers by the orchestra, march from the "Hills of Athens," Beethoven, and "In a Banquet" (Morceau Oriental), Leich, will open the concluding part of the program after an intermission. A mixed chorus will sing the "Bridal Chorus" from the opera "Lohengrin" by Wagner, and the Girls' Glee Club will sing "The Girl Who Came to Supper" by E. E. Bagley. It will be played by the band and the "Unfaded" by the Girls' Glee Club, and the "Hunting Horn," by the Boys' Glee Club, and the "Hunting Horn," by the Boys' Glee Club.

DECIDE BY DUEL

Mr. Bill Foster Then Kluge, Youth Unhappy

CHICAGO, May 24.—Two boys, unable to settle an argument as to which was the faster weapon, an air rifle or a sling shot, decided to fight a duel.

As a result Edward Bromberg, 12, in a hospital with a "BB" shot in his neck, and Al Chapas, 12, is a prisoner in the juvenile home.

Grasping their favorite weapons, the boys faced each other in a room in Al's home, counted "one, two, three," and fired. The air rifle won.

Tin Can Day

Parade and Free Movie for Kids To Conclude Cleanup Week

Big cans, little cans, any kind of cans will do. Cans that aren't worth two whoops, have suddenly jumped into the limelight in Marion.

Especially, those common, ordinary, trashy tin cans that litter up back yards and alleys. All because of the big Tin Can Parade, and free movie show planned for Saturday.

Six of these lovely cast-iron will admit any boy or girl to the Marion Theater, Saturday morning for a big free show, arranged for by Marion's 11, Foster.

All of the boys and girls who wish to be in the parade from the Star office, Saturday at 10:30 o'clock, and then on to the theater, must collect six tin cans from their back yards or some other yard and bring them along to pay their way to the show.

Manager Foster is expecting every seat in the Marion to be filled and is making a special effort to get the best features obtained.

Tin cans are a part of rubbish, and rubbish may be the direct cause of spreading disease, causing fires, in addition to spoiling the appearance of a community. There's where the tin can idea originated. The parade and show program Saturday is a part of Marion's Cleanup Week campaign.

Boys and girls under 14 years of age are eligible to take part. Six tin cans is the only admission, and no money.

Remember! Be at the Star office at 10:30 sharp to form a parade down to the Marion Theater. And six tin cans!

EDITOR JAILED FOR CRITICISM OF JUSTICE

Lancaster Newspaper Man Fined $20 and Given 10-Day Sentence

Lancaster, May 24.—Charging that an editorial in the Lancaster Daily Gazette was too critical of the decision of his court, Justice of the Peace E. W. Borer of Fairfield County, today gave William T. Lewis, editor of the paper and author of the editorial a $20 fine and a sentence of 10 days in the County Jail.

Lewis was arrested when he arrived at the Gazette office for work this morning. In his editorial he ridiculed the action of the court in regard to the sentence of a fine given Roy Kahler of Columbus on an assault charge brought by Eleanor Shaker, alias of Columbus. He was given a hearing immediately on charges of contempt of court and thrown in jail shortly after the sentence was meted out by the justice of the peace.

The editorial appeared in yesterday's issue of the Gazette along with a severe story of the assault on a road near Lancaster. Miss Pickering was found unconscious along the road by a farmer early yesterday. She claimed that Kahler assaulted her and threw her out of the car in which they were riding. Kahler was given a fine of $10 when he pleaded guilty of the charge before Justice Borer. He paid the fine and was released.

SAY WOMAN'S DEATH TRACED TO COMPANY

Radium Poisoning Cases Will Come Before Court Friday or Saturday

CINCINNATI, N. J., May 24.—With the approach of the opening of the suit of five deceased young women against the United States Radium Corporation for $1,200,000, it became known today that the death of Miss Elizabeth Brown at a hospital in New York more than a year ago has been traced to the same place.

Five Oregon girls who were employed at the radium plant are victims of radium poisoning and doctors here pronounced their cases hopeless.

Miss Brown, who had been a guest at Woodmont, formerly was employed at a radium plant in New York. She was the first of the five girls to die of radium poisoning.

NOBLE UNABLE TO LAND SHIP AT NORTH POLE

Unfavorable Weather Conditions Block Plans of Italian Arctic Explorer

PAPAL CROSS DROPPED

Airship Speeding Back to King's Bay, Spitzbergen, After Flight

King's Bay, Spitzbergen, May 24.—The Italian exploration balloon Italia, commanded by Gen. Umberto Nobile, flew over the North Pole at 1:20 o'clock this morning.

General Nobile reported this achievement by radio from the dirigible. The national flag of Italy and the municipal flag of Milan were dropped upon the pole ice cap as well as the cross which was given to the Italian explorer by Pope Pius XI.

On account of weather conditions an attempt was made to land at the pole. General Nobile, as the balloon was soaring over the top of the world, addressed messages to his wife and to Premier Mussolini of Italy.

It had been planned to station the balloon for two hours over the North Pole to enable two scientists of the expedition to make a landing upon the ice for scientific research. It was hoped also that the papal cross could be planted in the ice with appropriate religious services. Both of these plans failed owing to the unfavorable atmospheric conditions.

Cross 120 Miles
The commander of the ship had intended to land at the pole and plant a large wooden cross and an Italian flag there. Two meteorological experts were to have accompanied him in the landing to make scientific observations.

The Italia covered about 750 miles in about 20 hours in its flight to the pole. If all goes well, the ship should be back at its base by 8 o'clock tonight. The huge craft maintained a speed of about 40 miles an hour on the flight.

REPORT FIRST DO LITTLE NANN HERE

Marion County Crops and Fruit Not Seriously Damaged, in Belief

Although a white frost covered the ground last night, little damage is thought to have been done to growing crops and fruit, according to farmers in the vicinity of Marion.

Dryness of the weather is said to have been a factor in saving crops. While some farmers are still planting corn, many acres in this section of the state have been planted for several weeks. Warm weather during the past week has brought corn up rapidly. It was feared last night when the mercury suddenly began to fall that corn and fruit would be seriously damaged.

Low temperatures here last night was 20, according to the weather report for Marion. The high for yesterday was 65. High for a year ago was 65, low 40.

Weather weather is promised for tomorrow and for today.

An invitation has been extended from the club to the Thimble Bee Club of Prospect to attend its next meeting with Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Robertson and Kane were ready for a picnic sometime in June to entertain the husbands and families of the club. The program for the meeting was in charge of Mrs. Hayes Holland. "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung in unison, after which a story on Memorial Day was given by Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Red Letter Days BY EDNA WALLACE HOPPER. For very special occasions, "when one simply must look her best," the skin needs freshening and toning. And a "facial" comes to the rescue.

Some women look young and carefully groomed for eight or ten. Then their skin gradually lapses back into mud, dullness, and wrinkles. This is an important event. You can give your face the firm, glowing tone of youth. You should keep it in the best of condition for important engagements but every day because you're just as closely scrutinized day in and day out.

This is the simple treatment I have found really necessary for youthful skin. Apply your White Youth Clay once a week, twice a month, or as often as your skin requires. After washing it off you will feel the pleasant sensation of a real exfoliant. The clay ridges your skin of blackheads and similar blemishes, gently paring the pores of their accumulated impurities, which sometimes sink so deep, especially in oily skin.

Meditations OF A Married Woman BY HELEN ROWLAND

STRANGE how soon a man gets to be all alone in the race for a girl's favor.

There are two kinds of men—those who are like a peach, soft and sweet on the outside, but stony at heart—and those who are like a nut—hard and unimpressionable on the outside, but really tender at heart.

Marriage would be an easier job if every housewife could discover an infallible recipe for unhooking a husband's pocket and coaxing money out of it, and another for extracting a compliment from him without using a vacuum cleaner.

Every woman should marry, according to the masculine cynics, but all the men should remain single. Apparently woman's place is in the home, but man's place is in the bachelor flat. So what can the poor girl marry?

Jociously is always a false alarm. By the time a woman has turned on the extinguisher the flame of her husband's love for the other woman has practically died out anyway—and he is off starting another bonfire.

Before marriage a girl fancies that the most important thing about the man is the state of his heart or his pocketbook. After marriage she discovers that it is the state of his gastric juices.

"No man can be as good as a wicked woman," says Judge Kavanaugh. True. And no man can be as single as a good woman, as revealing as a beautiful woman, as bitter as a jealous woman or as foolish as a silly woman. Woman is the SUPREMACY of the human race.

When it comes to marrying a man can only try to get what he THINKS he wants in a life-partner—and a woman can only try to think that she wants what she GETS.

Divorce is the surgical operation that cuts your troubles in half—and takes away the better half! Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

KNOW OHIO WEEK FARM STATISTICS

Wealth of Information on Agriculture Revealed in Figures

Ohio has more Jersey cattle than any other state, and more merino sheep than any other six states. It is estimated that there are 7,500,000 apple trees in Ohio.

The average value of Ohio farm land per acre in 1910 was $78.33, and in 1920 was $121.64. The value of live stock in Ohio increased from $197,322,112 in 1910 to $287,355,118 in 1920; this was a gain of 45.3 per cent.

The value of Ohio farm products in 1925 was $280,000,000 (estimated in federal census). Ohio farmers cooperatively own 300 elevators.

The value of domestic animals in Ohio increased from $187,723,324 in 1910 to $290,551,496 in 1920.

The average value per farm increased from $6,144 in 1910 to $12,084 in 1920.

Ohio sells more cream than any other state, and is second in the total number of greenhouses, and exceeds any other state in the sale of vegetable and vegetable plants.

The Grange in Ohio has 400 local organizations with a membership of 80,000, while the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation has a membership of 26,000.

Ohio farmers, generally speaking, appreciate the advantage of co-operative enterprise and it is estimated that more than 20 per cent of their products are marketed co-operatively.

JUST CUT IT OUT!

All you have to do is to cut this apron out and bind edges and attach pockets in place and it's finished. Think of it! You can have the apron you desire of becoming fabric now, because it will only take you about half hour to make it and requires only 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch material with 6 yards of binding for the medium size. Style No. 3445 is designed in small, medium and large sizes. Printed sateen, dot motif in cotton broadcloth, striped madras, novelty modernistic print in rayon crepe, and cotton pongee are suggested. ## Skin Specialists Tell Women to Use Buttermilk For Complexion Worries

Girls and women who are not satisfied with the results they are getting with the creams and skin treatments they are using now can do nothing better than to go back to the old-fashioned recipe of buttermilk and cream. It takes but a few applications of Howard's Buttermilk Cream to show that there is nothing so good, so effective as this old-fashioned remedy. But let the test speak for itself. If you are not convinced your money will be refunded.—Adv.

There has never been such an aid to beauty as buttermilk. Famous beauties of all the ages as far back as Cleopatra used it and the modern woman would do well to forget the elaborate combination treatments and follow their lead. Fresh buttermilk isn't always obtainable, however, but scientific chemists have overcome this difficulty by combining a concentrated form of genuine old-fashioned buttermilk with cream which you can get from Henry Cooper or any druggist by asking for Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

It takes but a few applications of Howard's Buttermilk Cream to show that there is nothing so good, so effective as this old-fashioned remedy. But let the test speak for itself. If you are not convinced your money will be refunded.—Adv.

The Understanding Heart

A Story of the California Forests
BY PETER B. KYNE

(Copyright, 1935, Peter B. Kyne by arrangement with King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CHAPTER 37
The foreman of the job mill at San Francisco came out of his office, and the foreman's voice rose above the whir of machinery.

"Mason!"
Bob Mason abandoned his task of peeling strips around a pile of glass and approached the foreman.

"You're to report to the warden's office, Mason," the latter ordered.

"Wait for?"
"Gues the old man figure you'd jump to a little street in front of jumping your job that was with the road gang. Hope not. How to it, Mason. He doesn't like to be kept waiting."

When five minutes later, in answer to his knock, he was received at the warden's private office, he received a summons to enter. Bob Mason found there Anthony Garland and Sheriff DeWitt. Both were smiling broadly.

"With the hesitancy and timidity that are born of the strict discipline of prison life, Bob merely nodded to his guests and turned respectfully to the warden.

"Warden Mason reports, sir."

"Yes, Mason, I report you—and, by the way, Mr. Mason, this morning, not Prisoner Mason. Here's your conditional pardon from the Governor of the State of California, together with a letter from the governor to you. I imagine he's telling you he's sorry, but mistakes will happen in the best regulated families—and it appears you have been the victim of a completely horrible mistake. Put your gun away, Mason. You're free."

Bob reached for the large envelope the warden held toward him, but he was not destined to receive it. Instead, there was a sudden impact against his chest and something was thrust down under his nose—something warm and soft and human—a little blue nose.

"Here's your son, Bob dear," Monica said, voice informed him. "I thought you ought to be the first person to welcome your daddy. Take him in your arms, son. She was ill and couldn't come—so I'm your dear, dear friend."

And somehow, Bob Mason found himself in his arms, with two pairs of hands around his neck. He felt his child's face up against his cheek and held it close; his eyes closed, but through the tight lids he thought he saw Monica's face. Her head down and held him to her, understanding heart. The child looked a booming noise in that moment of otherwise perfect silence and perfect peace—and presently Bob Mason opened his misty eyes and smiled.

"There, there, dear," Monica soothed and wiped his wet eyes with her handkerchief. "Take a look at him, Bob. He's a beautiful boy!"

Bob looked like a mother. He was murmured, and kissed the flesh of his cheek and blood of his blood. "Poor little Robert," from a long, earnest scrutiny of his baby son's face—a scrutiny, intense, semi-hysterical—he turned to Monica and wept like a child with a mother's arm.

"You don't mind—do you, friend?" he asked to Garland, and kissed her.

Bentley and Garland now came forward and wrung his hand; the warden bowed and once more presented the document that restored Robert Lee Mason to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

"How Much Water Should Baby Get?"
A Famous Authority's Rule
By Ruth Branson

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight-pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast-fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle-fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children, such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, convulsions, etc., leading physicians say the only thing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty-cent bottles contain a full ounce—Adv.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDG M. LEWIS

THE wind was in the south this morning when I let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth, and it was Thursday, and tomorrow will be Friday and the next day will be Saturday, and that made me feel pretty good.

When I got out in the yard with the milk pail I heard something, and the squirrel was up in the tree out in front and was fussing at me and Jubilee. Then it ran down the trunk and across the sidewalk and up on the front fence, and it was so mad that it was dancing around on the fence saving things to us that were as bad as my grandfather could have thought of if we could have understood them. And just then I noticed the cat sneaking along by the side of the house with its eyes on the squirrel and its tail kinda moving slow from side to side. At first I was going to chuck the pail on a rack at the cat and scare it away, and then I thought I would wait and if it caught the squirrel I would run and take it away from her before she could hurt it. So I grabbed Jubilee by the back of the neck to make him stand still and watched, and when we stopped moving the squirrel stopped fussing at us and looked all around to see what made us keep so still. Then it saw the cat, and instead of skimming up the tree it jumped off the fence right at the cat and the next I knew the cat went past Jubilee and me making for the barn with its tail all awide up. The squirrel didn't catch it very far, only till it got to the corner of the house, and then it went around the corner and I couldn't find it anywhere. But I bet it was somewhere watching me and Jubilee looking for it. It is the biggest squirrel I ever saw. If I was our cat and couldn't do any better than that I would be ashamed of myself.

We are going to have speaking at school tomorrow afternoon, because it is Friday. I don't like to speak much. The Last Day of June does. He ought to be somebody's sister. He would make a good one when he grows up. We were going swimming so as to get used to cold water when school let out, but we couldn't see Freddie and You-nos and Maggie the mut that got fastened on her leg so it wouldn't show. Girls don't know much about boys or they would know that the boys would rather go swimming than be with girls all the time.

The squirrel was not around tonight. I was down on my hands and knees looking to see if he had a nest under our back step when my mother threw the dishwater out. She said she didn't see me, and I said I didn't see her. But I had to go to bed so my clothes could dry. I had to sleep raw because my shirt was wet too.

"That is what I have feared," he said.

"It is only the natural result of a sudden change in the girl's routine of living," I said. "If she never had known her mother's home without you, I am sure that now she would be so fond of you as if you were really her father."

"She was extremely fond of Maria," I understood, wanted to tell me, "so she could have a really truly father."

His voice was hoarse, uneven, and I saw that he was shaken with a very real jealousy of the famous artist who had so deeply loved Lillian.

Someway I achieved a light little laugh. Lillian was the only one, I fancied, for this particular obsession. "I would have asked for a new Teddy bear," I told him, "years ago, when she was a little thing. Look here, my friend, in it Marion you're worrying about, or the wealth of that old attachment between Lillian and Robert Maria?"

Headaches?

The next time your head aches—from any cause—just take a tablet of Bayer Aspirin and see how soon the pain is all gone. It is absolutely harmless, else physicians wouldn't say to use it; and it does not affect the heart.

All druggists have genuine Bayer Aspirin, in the box that says Bayer—with the word genuine in red letters!

Konjola Brings Wonderful Relief From Stomach and Kidney Trouble

MRS. ADDIE HILL.
"Since taking Konjola I am free of stomach and kidney trouble for the first time in five years," said Mrs. Addie Hill, 2027 East Fifth Street, Dayton, Ohio.

"My kidneys were so irregular that although I had to rise many times during the night the action was very water. I suffered from pains across the small of my back and the joints of my body were stiff and sore. My stomach gave me trouble and I had to be very careful what I ate. Food formed a hard rock in the pit of my stomach, causing quantities of gas would form, causing intense misery. These ailments made me have headaches and they were almost unbearable."

"In this condition I began taking Konjola and a wonderful change came over my system. The stomach and kidney trouble left me. Now my system is in better condition than it has been for many years and all the ugly symptoms have disappeared. I am free of all the miseries of kidney trouble because they are normal and acting natural. All the headaches are ended and not a trace of my former ailments remain. I give Konjola the highest praise and always recommend it to others."

Konjola is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains twenty-two jewels extracted from natural plants which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that had been going on for years. At the same time many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product until now Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

Konjola is strongly recommended here in Marion at Stump & Sons Pharmacy, and is also being sold by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.—Ad.

CALEDONIA JUNIOR CLASS ENTERTAINS

Theater Party in Marion Precedes Annual Junior-Senior Banquet

Caledonia, May 24.—The junior class of the Caledonia High School, entertained the senior class and members of the school faculty at a theater party and the annual Junior-Senior banquet and reception, Tuesday night. About 50 enjoyed the production of Beau Sabreur at the Marion Theater previous to the banquet which was served in the banquet room of Lotella Inn at Mt. Gillett.

Places for four were arranged at each of 10 small tables, which were decorated in the seniors colors, red and black. Favors in the class colors marked the places and American Beauty roses, the class flower, centered the tables. Alton Timson served as toastmaster for the following program: welcome, Dale Baird; vocal number by quartet composed by Margaret Ide, Pauline Warner, Margaret Ide, and Alton Timson; toast to the juniors by Gary Baird; response by Florence Kelly; entertainment sketch by Mildred Baird and others; selection by quartet; biography of the senior class, arranged by Lillian Nance, Alma Lyon and Avis Burnside, read by Alma Lyon; farewell, by Clyde Burnside, president of the senior class.

Short talks were given by Superintendent M. D. Shumaker and several of the teachers.

Those sponsoring the evening's entertainment and dinner were Alma Lyon, Florence Kelly, Mildred Baird, Pauline Warner, Margaret Ide, Lillian Nance, Avis Burnside, Dale Baird, Alton Timson and Bennett Wait, members of the junior class.

Honor guests were Clyde Burnside, Francis Lyon, Thelma Baird, Kenneth Fosse, Robert and Richard Whitesmire, Mabel Lincoff, Lucile Clouse, William Lyon, Garnet Baird, Alice Nuffer, Edith Rose, Mary Steele, Hazel Baird, Edith Glat, Hazel Her, Pearl Cox and Beva Cox, members of the senior class. Other guests were Superintendent and Mrs. M. D. Shumaker, R. B. Vogel, Gladys Brenner, Dorothy Scott, C. L. Snyder, Orrall Garber, Helen Warwick, Ethel Porter and Ray Lyon.

World's greatest value by the verdict of the world . . . .

The most important thing ever said of Essex is said by buyers in the largest 6-cylinder sales, and the most overwhelming competitive preference of automobile history.

In many territories Essex sales exceed those of any other "Six" by more than 2 to 1. And, with slight variations, this preference is the nation's and the world's.

The only prestige back of this enormous success is the public knowledge that Essex has always stood for value—and this time such pre-eminent value that there is no second.

Just to examine and ride in an Essex Super-Six reveals such visible margins of value, in beauty, performance and comfort, that you cannot fail to share the overwhelming public conviction.

Marion Boy One of 50 in Inter-city Marble Finals

When marble shooting champions of 50 Ohio towns and cities meet in Columbus, Saturday, to compete for the title in the Columbus Citizen inter-city tournament finals, Marion will be represented by John Kinsey, 334 N. Greenwood-st. The Marion contestant, 12 years old, is expected to be a strong contender for first honor.

In the local marble shooting tournament, conducted several weeks ago under the auspices of the Rotary Club and Boy Scouts, Kinsey won second place. The boy taking first was barred from the finals at Columbus due to his being above the age limit.

Trip to Atlantic City
Winner of the Columbus tournament will be taken to Atlantic City for one week on June 24 to shoot in the finals against champions of 50 other American cities from coast to coast. All of his expenses will be paid by The Citizen.

In Columbus, the 50 champions will parade in High-st., and inspect the statehouse. At a banquet, extended them by the Chittenden Hotel, they will be officially welcomed by city and state officials.

JOHN KINSEY

Tournaments have been sponsored in the 50 cities by various civic organizations such as the American Legion, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, public schools, Chamber of Commerce, Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scouts.

Use 10-Foot Ring
The game is "Ringer," using a 10-foot ring with 13 clay marbles in the center. All games are "for fair."

Motion pictures will be taken of the event, and exhibited in cities where tournaments have been held. Radio Station WEAO of Ohio State University will go on the air with a broadcast of the games and results at 4 p. m. Saturday.

Cities represented by champions in the finals are: Amanda, Athens, Bucyrus, Bellefontaine, Baltimore, Basil, Bremen, Coshocton, Chillicothe, Circleville, Carroll, Canal Winchester, Delaware, Grove City, Groveport, Hillsdale, Ironton, Johnstown, Lancaster, Logan, London, Kenton, Zanesville, Xenia, Wilmington, Washington Court House, Westerville, Thurston, Shawnee, Sugar Grove, Richwood, Portsmouth, Pickerington, Newark, Nelsonville, New Lexington, Mount Vernon, Middleport, Marion, Marietta, Maletta, Millersport, Mount Pleasant, Minford, South Webster, New Boston, McElmstown, Lucasville, West Portsmouth, Buena Vista, Olney and Wheelersburg.

Take a Spring Tonic

for a very GOOD REASON

You feel sluggish—lack pep—appetite gone, you do not care to eat when you should enjoy your meals—pimples and boils may appear. You need an alternative tonic.

Why it should be S.S.S.

Because S.S.S. is the one remedy tested by time and perfected by science, which has been demonstrated by the experience of literally millions of satisfied users and by scientific tests in clinical laboratories to increase the appetite and build up to normal the count of red cells in the blood. This is the true basis of health and strength—the bright eyes, the clear unblemished skin, the glow and joy of bodily vigor, and resistance to disease.

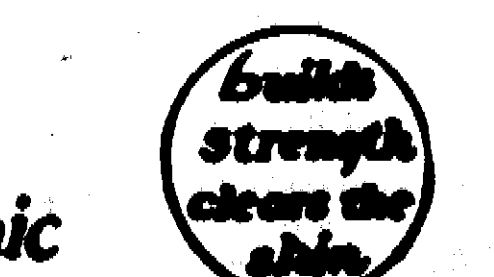

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning. Instead, you feel refreshed, ready to meet the world.

Your appetite is keen—you enjoy work or play—your skin is clear, cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood builds and sustains the body.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. The double size is more economical.

You will find my prices very reasonable. Just for instance:

Good Plates	$15.00 Up
Semi-Metallic Plate	$25.00
"RUGO SUCTION PLATE" with Irregular Teeth and Natural Pink Gums. (Best plate money can buy)	$35.00

This Is How I Make "Rugo-Suction" Plates

To start with, the materials used are so selected and compounded that they will not make the mouth sore.—Then a superior grade of teeth are selected, carved from models of live teeth.—In fact perfect reproductions of live teeth.—then by my method of taking impressions, and many other refinements, including my own original method of setting up and finishing,—a super plate is produced.—"A Plate that Fits Right,—Nits Right,—and Looks Right."—The gums are natural pink like live gums. The teeth are especially selected to mold, shade and color for each case.

My teeth do not "Look Fake" or "Act Fake." In fact, they are perfect reproductions of live, natural teeth and can be used in every way with perfect satisfaction.

My plates will remove the wrinkles, and make you look as you looked when you had your own teeth.

As a result of the enormous demand for these plates, I am able to get them out in large quantities at no greater cost than ordinary plates.

TO ASK U. S. CALL MEETING OF POWERS

Formal Request Will Be Presented to State Department

May 24—A formal request for a meeting of the powers of the United States, Japan, China, and the European powers to discuss the occupation of Manchuria and the Japanese ultimatum to the United States, will be presented to Secretary of State Kellogg by Dr. C. C. Wu, special representative of the Chinese government, at the State Department, today.

will attempt to present the case for all China, the Chinese statesman, declined to discuss the publication in advance of his reception at the State Department, the detailed outline of his case. He talked freely, however, concerning public opinion in China as related to the Japanese ultimatum that no Chinese troops will be permitted to invade Manchuria.

Powers Obligated
China feels strongly that Japan has flagrantly violated the nine-power treaty of 1922 guaranteeing the political and territorial integrity of China. Kellogg has stated officially since the publication of the Japanese ultimatum that the United States recognizes no special rights of any power in Manchuria beyond the Japanese rights under the Japanese lease of the Manchurian Railroad.

Under the Washington treaty, the powers are obligated to consider jointly what action shall be taken when any signatory violates Chinese sovereignty. As sponsor of the Washington conference, in the Chinese view, responsibility for the first step in this direction rests with the United States.

Question Asked
Despite repeated assertions by the Japanese government that war in Manchuria and Shantung only to protect her vital interests and the lives of her nationals, Chinese sentiment openly questions the Japanese aims. Chinese newspapers stress the charge that President Wilson permitted the Japanese occupation of Shantung in 1919 in return for Tokio's adherence to the League of Nations. The question is asked in China today: "Will the United States sanction the occupation of Manchuria in return for Japanese adherence to the Kellogg proposals for the universal renunciation of war?" Japan has not replied to the Kellogg note of April 13 suggesting the multi-lateral treaty for the outlawry of war, although all other powers have responded. Within the past week, official advisers from Tokio have intimated a Japanese reply forthwith.

JOHNSON WILL HOLD SENATE IN SESSION

Demand Boulder Dam Bill Be Passed; House Moves To Vote

Washington, May 24—The six-year fight for the building of Boulder Canyon dam moved rapidly to ward a dramatic climax today with the House about to vote on the bill and the Senate given the choice of breaking a filibuster or remaining in night and day session for 72 hours.

Senator Johnson, Republican of California, declaring that he was fighting to save the valley of the lower Colorado from flood disaster, planned to keep the Senate in session until Sunday in a determined effort to bring the measure to a decision.

Parted against the California senator in the endurance test made possible under the rules of the Senate was Senator Ashurst, Democrat of Arizona, who likewise declared he was willing to go without sleep or a square meal to defeat the legislation.

Hope for Compromise
While refusing to go the limit threatened by the opposition, and permitting the Senate to temporarily lay aside the Boulder Dam bill to consider some emergency matters, the California senator prepared to fight every move to displace the measure from its place on the Senate calendar.

Fearing that the Boulder Dam filibuster might threaten the success of important legislation and postpone adjournment, Senate leaders were lending every effort to reaching a compromise which would result in a final decision on the issue.

Merit time the same measure was moving along steadily in the House, with acrimonious debate on both sides, but with a final vote in prospect before tomorrow night. Only a threatened filibuster by Representative Douglas, Democrat of Arizona, in the form of a hundred amendments to the bill with time for debate on every one, threatened a decision in the House.

Backers Confident
Senate backers of the bill were confident that it will be passed if brought to a vote. Similar confidence was expressed by House sponsors, in spite of unexpected opposition which sprang up during the closing stages of general debate. The "silent vote" was expected to control the balance of power in that body.

The House contest developed a fiery debate between Representative Smith, Republican of California, co-author of the bill, and Representative Douglas, Democrat of Arizona, both among the younger legislators. Both were cheered for their intense efforts.

A short session for all sections took place in the House debate to precede the bill while the opposition speeches were coached chiefly to Representative Douglas and Representatives Leath, Wood, Humphreys, and Cotton, Republican of Utah.

COLD FAILS TO CUT CIRCUS ATTENDANCE

Big Crowds Fill Seats at Both Hagenbeck-Wallace Performances Here

Marion's first circus day of the year has passed into history.

With only the chill of the weather yesterday to mar the annual occasion, Marion citizens filled the big top at both afternoon and night performances of the Hagenbeck-Wallace show. Top seats were very much in evidence last night. Cold top and ice cream vendors went begging for customers and circus goers wished for steaming coffee and hot dogs instead.

Today all that is left of the circus on the background is a lot of trampled grass, scattered and gaping holes that once held tent pegs. The show by this time is getting ready for the night performance at Sandusky.

Many circus fans were disappointed last night when they failed to find the loading place. Although the train was unloaded at Greenwood st., Garden City, it was the scene of loading operations.

Eagle And Shovel A. A. Teams Will Clash Friday Night

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE LEADERSHIP WILL BE CUT DOWN BY GAME

Three Nines Tied for First Place Have Hard Contests

By KAREL N. McLEOD

The three way tie that has existed for first place in the Commercial League since the season started two weeks ago will be no more after Friday night unless Old Man Weather puts an end to all scheduled games.

The best that can be seen for the league is a two way tie and perhaps only one team holding the initial berth. All 10 teams will swing into action on five diamonds in the third round of play.

Two Strongest
Two of the strongest teams of the league will clash at Central field when the Eagles and Steam Shovel A. A. meet. Both teams have not been defeated so far this year and Friday night's encounter will be the first of two games scheduled between the aggregations this season.

Last year the Eagles won the championship of the league by defeating the Shovel team. The Shovels were run- ners-up after giving the league leaders a great battle.

The championship of the league this year will rest between these two teams, followers of the sport maintain. Friday night's clash will be watched with interest by all other teams of the loop with hopes of uncovering some weakness in the armor of the clubs.

Kaplan Meet Stars
The Kaplans, the other club tied for first place, will take on the Stars at the Steam Shovel. Although the Kaplans are being favored to win the Star is expected to give them a great battle.

Other games scheduled in the league are: K. of P. vs. Kiwanis at Silk Mills, early vs. Baptists at Lincoln and Erie Switchmen vs. Erie Officers at Fairfield.

Hocking Valley and Shovel Club are expected to remain in a tie for first place after contests tonight. The rail- roaders will have an easy game with the Excavators while the Shovels tackle the C. D. & M. The Shovel also will have the hardest game against the Elec- tricians who are in second place. The Excavators have not won a single con- test this season.

The complete schedule for Industrial League teams tonight follows: Excava- tors vs. Hocking Valley at Central; Fairfield vs. Huber at Fairfield; On- gar vs. Erie Roundhead at Steam Shovel; C. D. & M. vs. Shovel Club at Lincoln.

FINAL MEETING

Plans for opening of tournament will be made by teams.

The final meeting to complete all plans for the opening of the American Legion amateur baseball tournament in Marion on Saturday will be held Fri- day night at 7:30 in the Legion dug- out.

All managers and captains of teams are to attend the meeting. Opening games will be played Saturday morn- ing and afternoon.

NO CHANCE

Last American to Eliminated in British Amateur Tourney

PRENTWICK, Scotland, May 24.—The only American born contender who had a chance of winning the British Amateur Golf Championship was eliminated today. Douglas Grant was defeated by A. R. MacCallum, a Briton, two up. John McNeill, of California, was the favorite among the Americans until he was eliminated by Sir Ernest Holderness. While Grant is an American he played as a representative of the Royal St. George's Club, of Sandwich, of which he has been a member for years.

YANKEES TO TACKLE ATHLETICS IN FIRST OF SIX-GAME SERIES

Mackmen Have Chance To Pass League Leading New York Team

New York, May 24.—Some of those professors of physics, so dumb, foolishly, that they can't answer their own questions, ought to go out to Shibe Park, Philadelphia, this afternoon and see for themselves what happens when the irresistible force, to be designated hereinafter as the New York Yankees, meets the immovable body, i. e., the Philadelphia Athletics. The immovable body usually is represented by almost any gentleman who finds himself seated during the subway rush hours but this time the distinction can and will be shifted to the ball club whose position remains as is, in spite of the fact that its immediate rival hasn't blown more than three times in a month.

As a matter of fact, the Athletics have made the immovable body look like a nervous breakdown during this interval. Only an outfit that wins 20 of its last 21 could maintain a tactical liaison with the pace the Yankees have set since the start of the season.

It's Up To The East

The series starting today at Shibe Park, in addition to strengthening out the inquiring professors, should determine definitely and finally whether anything is to be done about Yankee dominance in the American League. The west had a whirl at it and finished a bad third in a field of two. The Indians showed some authority in their recent visit to New York but the White Sox, Tigers and Browns took it on the profile with great alacrity, leading to the general belief that, if anyone is to stop the Yankees, it won't be the west.

Offhand, I would say that the club which plays 523 baseball on a month may be the candidate in question until a better one turns up. The Athletics, in fact, are the only outfit this season to win a series from the Yankees and there is nothing to be found against the theory that what you do once you can do again. This time, the pickings will be even more attractive, since the pair is separated by 13 games this morning and the series it faces is a slug-gate affair. The league lead very well may change hands while the general excitement is on.

For one thing, the Yank's pitchers may not be exactly poised for this occasion. Pennock was slightly over-worked during the early going and may be able to "go" only once during the six games. Hoyt has not quite found himself this season meaning that the opposition has been able to find him with some readiness. Coleskie is dropped into convenient spots from time to time. Phipps has been a consistent winner and yesterday, young Johnson turned in a winning effort but, for the most part, the club has been carried by the irresistible force of its attack.

MEENEY IS SECOND

New York, May 24.—Tom Meeneey, challenger for Gene Tunney's heavyweight crown, will act as George Courtney's second when the Oklahoma mid-dleweight fights Jack McVey, local hero, in a 10-round bout here tomorrow night. Meeneey formerly was Courtney's sparring partner.

Hornsby To Lead Braves

Jack Slattery Resigns Suddenly; Trades and Transfers Expected To Follow in Wake of Appointment

ROGERS HORNSBY

BOSTON, May 24.—Rogers Hornsby was at the helm of the Boston Braves today.

The naming of the slab to succeed Slattery, who suddenly resigned, had the whole baseball world by the ears.

At the same time it was pretty definite that "Slats" will continue with the Tribe as chief of scouts.

Trades and transfers were expected to follow in the wake of the appointment of Hornsby as player-manager.

Under the guiding hand of one of baseball's most dynamic and aggressive personalities, the local Tribe was understood to be ready for a general shaking up.

REDS INCREASE LEAD BY BEATING PIRATES

Cleveland Pulls First Triple Pay, but Loses to White Sox

New York, May 24.—Pittsburgh fans are beginning to wonder when, if ever, the champion Pirates are going to get started.

Yesterday the Reds nosed them out in the tenth, 4 to 3, Luque outpitching Hill. Cincinnati won four out of five in the series and now leads the Cubs who were idle yesterday, by a full game.

The Giants have won five out of six from Brooklyn this season. Buzz McWreny stopped the New Yorkers, 4 to 3, in the first game of yesterday's double bill. But Houston held the Indians to four hits in the ninth and won by a 4-0 count. Master Melvin Ott got his fifth homer.

"Death Valley" Todd, first secker of the Boston Red Sox, clouted three home runs in the New York series. His mates couldn't help him in the final game, however, and the Sox suffered a 2 to 1 defeat at the hands of Henry Johnson.

The Athletics beat Washington 4 to 2, with the aid of five hits by Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker. Cobb now has hit 3,001 singles during his big league career.

The White Sox nosed out Cleveland in the tenth, 4 to 3, after the Indians had pulled the first triple play of the season on them in the ninth. With the bases full Clancy flied to Jamieson, who threw Kamm out at the plate. Schalk then was caught off second.

The Browns ended their losing streak of nine games by trouncing Detroit, 8 to 3. The Tigers dropped below Cleveland into seventh place.

800 ATHLETES TAKE PART IN STATE SCHOOL TRACK MEET

Expect Relay and Pole Record To Fall in Columbus

Columbus, May 24.—Nearly 800 athletes are expected to flock to the stadium here Friday and Saturday to participate in the annual track and field meet championships of Ohio Schools.

Entries in the annual gathering include the winning and runner-up school teams of the eight districts held in the past two weeks and individual athletes who placed in the three first positions of any events in the district meets.

Competition will take place in divisions, Class A, B and C, boys of the state. The largest number of track and field men entered in a division, composed of first schools with attendance of more than 500.

Two Records May Fall

At least two existing records are expected to meet officials to fall in the pole vault event. Allen, who is assisting Salem to annex the state district title last Saturday, topped the world's high school record of 12 feet, 1 1/4 inches. The record was set by 1912 Olympian, Keith Roessler, who the Ohio record in the same event Saturday, will be entered in the relay at the central district meet in Delaware recently, the Columbus team is slated to place a new record at the gathering this week.

The Columbus squad ran the mile in three minutes, 27.2 seconds, a few seconds better than the high school meet record.

MICHIGAN GOLFERS DEFEAT OHIO STATE

Buckeye Team Able To But One First Place Meet

Columbus, May 24.—Unlucky Michigan annexed the Western reserve golf championship today by defeating Ohio State 16 to 14 in the final match of the season, the score 1-2 to 2-1.

Both teams had been under dual match contests with other university teams until the meeting day. The Michigan team, up enough points in the contest to clinch the dual meet victory, the four-man teams which were tied for late yesterday's victory, more scored, the only victory of a Buckeye team.

MATCHED IN SPAIN

San Sebastian, Spain, May 24.—Two Uruguayan, Spanish boys, were matched to fight George at Barcelona on July 24, it is announced today.

Behind the Blindfold...

John J. McGraw judges leading cigarettes

and selects OLD GOLD

"I can tell what is happening in a ball game almost without looking at the field. There are 'signs' that managers know...the 'click' of a ball that's fairly hit...the rumble or the about in the stands.

"I found there were also 'signs' by which you can tell the best cigarette in the blindfold test. Fine flavor...smoothness...comfort to the throat...all these made me vote at once for Old Gold."

BUSHY GRAHAM NEW BANTAM CHAMPION

Went Easily Over Corporal Izzy Schwartz; Baker Defeats Teets

New York, May 24—The bantam division today has a new and champion in Bushy Graham, winner of the U.S. title. He won the decision over Corporal Izzy Schwartz, firstweight champion in New York state, in a 15-round bout in Madison last night.

Graham had difficulty in making the first fight. Schwartz, weighing 115, gave away nearly seven pounds. He was badly battered, losing eleven

Graham scored the Corporal for a point of nine in the fourteenth round and they could hardly keep his feet steady.

Looking for the right to meet Joe Brown in a welterweight title go, Corporal Izzy Schwartz came from behind to outpoint Neck Teets, of Troy, N. Y., after being floored twice in the first round. Baker came on to take over the 10 rounds.

LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP TO BATTLE EDDIE MARTIN

New York, May 24—Ted Morgan, of Seattle, junior lightweight champion, fought a severe test tonight when he met Eddie Martin, of Canton, Mass., in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden. Morgan, wearing the ring after a lay-off of six months, is meeting a powerful fighter. Martin outwore the bantamweight and featherweight divisions and tonight is making his first serious bid for junior lightweight honors.

TEX RICKARD PLANNING TO MATCH ARGENTINE FIGHTER

New York, May 24—Promoter Tex Rickard plans to match Vittorio Campese with Jack Sharkey if the Argentine heavyweight defeats Monte Munoz in Buenos Aires tomorrow night. Rickard is negotiating with Johnny Burke, Sharkey's manager, for a bout here in July between the Boston fighter and Campese, who is being billed as "the wild bull of the Pampas."

JACK REYNOLDS REGAINS WELTER WRESTLING TITLE

Columbus, May 24—Jack Reynolds, of Indianapolis, regained the world's welterweight wrestling championship by defeating Bobbie Chick, of Texas, last night. Chick took the Texas title several months ago in Louisville.

Chick scored the first fall after 10 minutes and 57 seconds of wrestling. Reynolds won his first fall in 17 minutes and more than an hour later scored a fall over Chick with a flying mare kick.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At New York—Bushy Graham, of Los Angeles, N. Y., won bantamweight title by outpointing Corporal Izzy Schwartz, New York (15).

Sergeant Sammy Baker won decision over Neck Teets, Troy, N. Y., (10).

Frankie Garcia, of Utica, younger brother of Bushy Graham, outpointed Jack Cohen, Brooklyn featherweight (15).

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHY PIMPLES

Over Face and Neck.
Hard and Very Red.

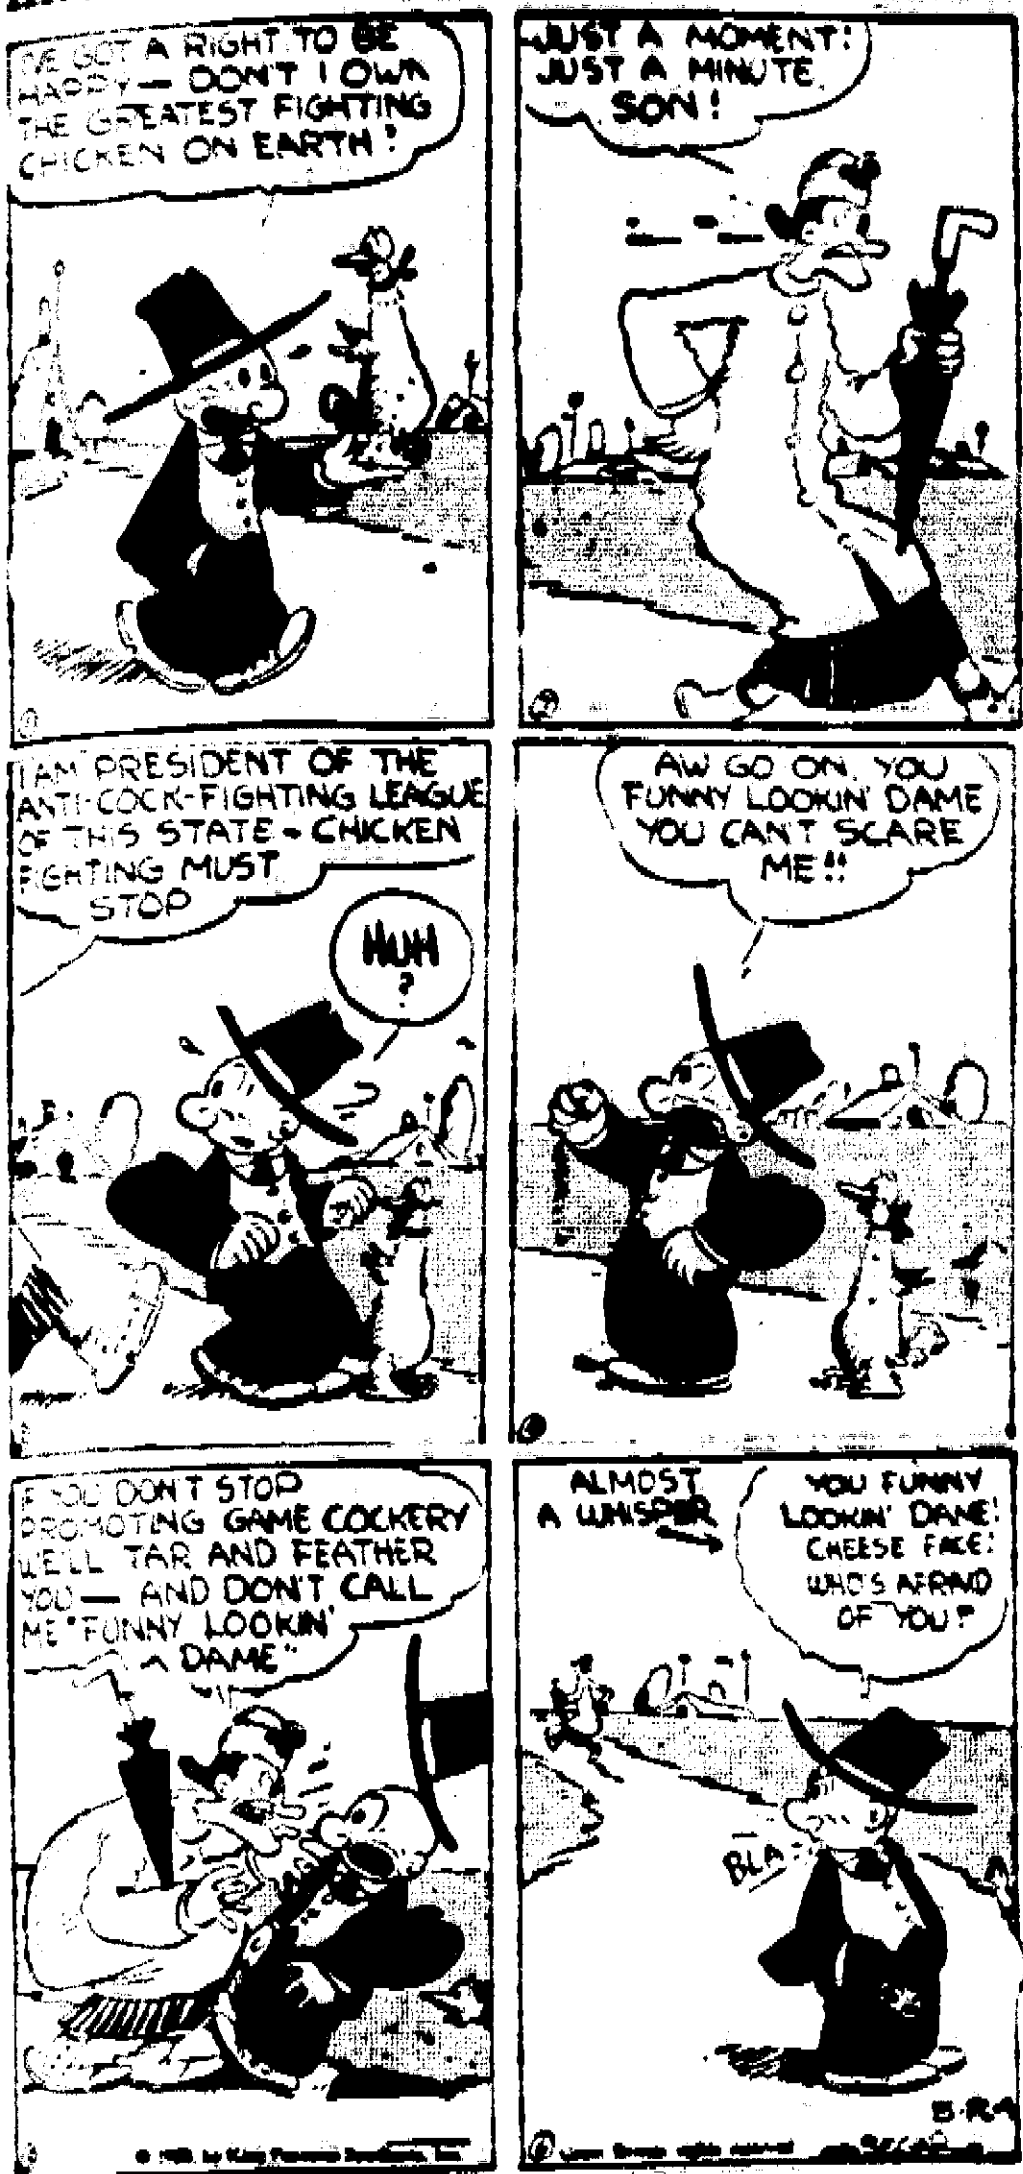

"My face and neck broke out with pimples and blackheads. The pimples were hard and very red and itched. They itched and burned so badly that I scratched them until they would bleed, and then they would scab over and be very sore. They were so thick that I was ashamed to go out in company. I lost my rest at night on account of them."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and was healed after using two boxes of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Catherine Z. Here are Eight Indisputable Reasons for Its Outstanding Superiority

- (1) DOUBLE CONE SPRING UNITS
The only type of spring that permits all-around, permanent undisturbed of each individual coil at top and bottom.
- (2) LIGHT IN WEIGHT
On account of the patented construction, this mattress does not require the undue weight so disadvantageous in many spring filled mattresses.
- (3) A COMPLETE ONE-PIECE UNIT
The only type of construction that gives an instant one-piece unit for any size mattress—a unit that facilitates speed, economy, beauty of construction and necessary in making up the mattress.
- (4) BETTER VENTILATED—MORE SANITARY
No one structure unobstructed through entire mattress—from side to side and end to end.
- (5) PNEUMATIC RESILIENCE
—possible only with double cone construction, the top and bottom coils of which are larger and less resistant, the final better gradually follow up by the other center coils, thus giving a permanent—the resiliency at every point of contact under all degrees of weight.
- (6) DOUBLE THICKNESS OF SOLE MATERIALS
Only the heaviest, most durable materials—66-ounce best quality Calumet bar to wool. It has about three times the strength of usually ordinary used in lower-priced mattresses. The material used for this purpose has been selected for its durability and wearing qualities suited to permanently under coils at top and bottom. All stitching is of heavy thread—the strongest made for the purpose.
- (7) SPRINGS WITH STAYED ENDS
The ends of the springs are so stayed or "spaced" that they do not catch, prove or wear through the material of any part under any condition of use or handling.
- (8) NONSLIPS
—patented spring formation makes it impossible for "roll-back" to develop in the unit. As a result, every mattress is secure at all periods of its life.

May 24. Easier money market and aggressive post-war speculative movement in specialty stocks brought sharp advances in the financial market. The market was buoyed by the decision of the Federal Reserve Board to increase the discount rate to 4 percent, which was expected to increase the cost of borrowing and thus stimulate the market for specialty stocks.

The market for specialty stocks was particularly active, with many issues showing sharp gains. The advance in the market was attributed to the expectation that the new 5-hour day would be adopted, which would increase the productivity of the manufacturing industry and thus stimulate the demand for specialty stocks.

VOICE AT MORRAL MENACED BY CROWD

Village Marshal Summoned To Help Restore Quiet at Tent Meeting

Disturbances which made necessary summoning the village marshal threatened to break up the tent meeting service last night at Morral. During the meeting a crowd gathered on the outside and attempted to interrupt the service by loud noises during the sermon. Quelled by Rev. W. C. Bowman, pastor of Toledo Avenue Mission, and other churchmen, the service progressed calmly until a shower of stones from the crowd again assembled, made necessary summoning of help. Rumors are being circulated at the present time in Morral that the tent will be razed before further services. Preventative measures are being taken by churchmen, however, and the meeting will continue throughout the coming week, Reverend Bowman said today.

in giving an account of last night's disturbances. While removing a large Rhesus dog from the meeting last night, Reverend Bowman was stained a severe wound in his right hand. A man creating a disturbance on the inside, said to have been intoxicated, was also removed by force. Rev. Jack Donovan of Frankfort, Ind., in the minister in charge of the revival.

CLAIM GERMANY NOT CONNECTED WITH GAS

Government Would Seek Agreement To Outlaw Poison in Warfare
Berlin, May 24—Following a cabinet discussion of the poison gas explosion at Hamburg, when the whole population was menaced, it was officially stated today that neither the German government nor the Reichswehr was involved in the storage of the phosgene gas. A statement in the German press, which was said to have been officially inspired, denounces an international agreement prohibiting the use of poison gas in warfare. Germany is thoroughly frightened over the possibilities of chemical warfare as its horrors have been brought home by the tragedy at Hamburg. The investigators at Hamburg were told by experts that, had the gas been spread over the city, the whole population would have been menaced.

EDWARD RUBINS, 69, DIES NEAR LA RUE

Annual Play of Harding High Graduates Delights Two Large Audiences at Grand Theater; Difficult Roles Cleverly Taken

Under Direction of Miss Lucile Foreman

In these days of companionate marriage, it is a relief to sit through a play of sweet romance, such as "Smilin' Through," which the senior class of Harding High School presented yesterday afternoon and last night at the Grand Theater.

Daily Proverb—"He who for his own sake would expose a friend deserves not to have one."

As we get it, Secretary Hoover does not choose to run should President Coolidge change his mind about not choosing to run.

Were that Hindu of Benares, who has held his hands aloft for twenty years, to go to Chicago, he shouldn't experience much difficulty in passing for a resident.

After all, considering the average age of the members of the British house of lords, the fact that they prefer long hair three to one to bobbed, is hardly likely to impress the nappers.

A Paris cable says the police over there are the sole judges of drunkenness and that, when arrests are made, which is seldom, the prisoner is freed as soon as he is sober. Looks a lot like propaganda to catch American tourists.

The federal department of commerce announces that 409,948 motor vehicles, 364,877 of which were passenger cars and the other 45,071 trucks, were manufactured in April. There can no longer be doubt. The conspiracy against us true aristocrats of the land is steadily picking up momentum.

The ringleader in his Ohio bar test frauds has been sentenced by the state supreme court to a year in jail and the other twelve implicated have been given jail sentences or fines. That old one, "Honesty is the best policy," is still doing business at the old stand.

Mrs. Esther Wilson, of New York City, the big game hunter who has been indicted for shooting her husband following a quarrel, is said to have told the police that she "pointed the pistol at him, shut her eyes and pulled the trigger." Are we to take it that that is the way she went about shooting lions in Africa?

A Chicago judge has held that a husband has a right to send candy and flowers to his wife even though she has begun a proceeding to divorce him. And why not? Why should any of us husbands be expected to break a life-long habit just because our wives show lack of appreciation?

Senator Walsh, of Montana, has introduced a resolution for a senatorial investigation of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation or the Famous Players-Lasky-Paramount corporation, whichever it may be. Can it be that Thomas hasn't discovered by this time that the investigation route doesn't lead to the White House?

A woman told the New York supreme court that her husband had confessed that, down in South America, he had lived on ants, snakes and small crocodiles and that, up here in the United States, he has lived on his foster-father-in-law. She'll have to hand it to him for being mighty catholic in his diet.

Chicago Election Manipulation.

The boldness with which the recent primary election in some of the precincts in Chicago was manipulated is almost beyond belief. In the light of the disclosure resulting from an investigation being conducted by the board of elections up there it's amazing that the vote of those favoring a cleaning-up of the city prevailed. Possibly the handling of the ballots in the sample precincts selected by the election board may throw light upon the methods by which the criminal element of Chicago has been able so long to hold its grip upon the city.

In one precinct, says an account of the election board proceeding, but 315 voters appeared at the polls, yet 713 ballots were cast. One of the watchers explained to the board that, before the voting began, he found that 400 ballots had disappeared. As the balloting progressed, the ballot box became filled, whereupon the ballots were turned into a barrel. When the polls closed, the ballots in the ballot box were first counted and then those in the barrel. The first 400 ballots had been marked and placed in the barrel while the voting was in progress. The poll books of this precinct disappeared.

Pretty crude work, that, but no more so than that pulled off in some of the other precincts. In one of which, out of 438 ballots cast, 225 had been marked twice, while forty-five others showed erasures. In another precinct, many ballots showed that crosses had been erased and the ballots remarked, all the remarks seemingly having been done by one hand and with the same pencil. In yet another precinct the entire vote of 554 ballots cast was held to the common place court on account of the similarity of markings. Such was the situation in one precinct that the board recommended the summary dismissal of its judges and clerks, and it is anticipated that the court will order an entire recount of the ballots.

It will not do to say that the judges and clerks in some of the precincts in which irregularities were found played in with the ballot box stuffers and ticket manipulators, but it may be said that election officials who can be duped by some of the methods employed at the recent Chicago primary are totally unqualified for the places they fill and are a menace to the city.

An Act of High Courage.

Thus far in its course, the second McNary-Haugen bill, the congressional conception of a workable measure for farm relief, has gone the way of the first. It has been vetoed by the president.

That President Coolidge would veto the bill was anticipated, but that he would characterize it as he did in his veto message could hardly have been expected. Not only did he use the veto ax, but a bludgeon as well, denouncing it as an economic fallacy contemplating governmental juggling of prices and a "bureaucracy gone mad."

The president says that "a detailed analysis of all the objections to the measure would involve a document of truly formidable proportions," but that its "major weaknesses and perils" may be summarized under six headings:

- "1—Its attempted price-fixing fallacy.
- "2—The tax characteristics of the equalization fee.
- "3—The widespread bureaucracy which it would set up.
- "4—Its encouragement to profiteering and wasteful distribution by middlemen.
- "5—Stimulation of overproduction.
- "6—Its aid to our foreign agricultural competitors."

These are the chief weaknesses in the measure upon which the president dwells, and one who reads the message without prejudice will be ready to admit that he not only has splendidly presented his case, but also proved it. In many years, we can not recall a state veto message which so forcefully backed up and established the wisdom of the executive in exercising his constitutional right of veto.

Washington dispatches dwell at some length on the feeling entertained there, that this action by the president will have a decided influence in the Kansas City convention and may cause such a division in the Republican party as to lose it the coming presidential election. If the feeling throughout the country was such that there was possibility of effects such as these as the outcome of his veto, the president must have known it, and yet he went ahead regardless of what might be the effect upon his party because of his conviction that his course was the proper one. No matter what any one may think of the political acumen of the president, none will dare deny his honest patriotism and high courage. Despite the awful pressure brought to bear upon him, he did that which he believed was right.

The president is said to consider inadvisable the Norris amendment to the tax-cut bill providing for publicity in connection with income tax returns not only because of his dislike for publicity of that nature, but also because of the danger of reducing the national revenues. It goes without the saying that a lot of good people are with him in his position. There is entirely too much snooping going on in the country as it is.

That Phosgene Gas Cloud.

The deaths of eleven citizens of Hamburg, Germany, and the poisoning of 200 more to hospitals as the result of exposure to a cloud of deadly phosgene gas, which escaped from a tank and floated over the city, will hardly result in an investigation by the League of Nations, as has been intimated in cables from Europe, for the reason that the international military commission authorized three German firms to manufacture the gas for commercial purposes.

Phosgene gas was used by Germany with terrible effect during the latter part of the war. It is said to be so powerful that it kills animal and plant life alike, but it is used to good advantage in the manufacture of dyes and is held to have decided curative powers for certain physical ailments. For these purposes American manufacturers have bought supplies of the gas from Germany, for the reason that it can not be produced here profitably, and this demand, together with the home demand, has been met by the three firms authorized to make the gas.

To an open mind, however, it is something of a question whether objection should be raised to the manufacture by Germany of any article for which she can find a market in which it is to be used for manufacturing purposes, especially when in one of its manufactured forms it is medicinal, simply because such an article may be used for military purposes. To some, such a course would look somewhat far-fetched. Still, when one recalls the hubbub raised over the discovery of a lot of arms in a German church, which were later shown to have been placed there by an Allied inspecting body, one can vision how such a course might excite a number of European powers.

Europe is still mighty touchy regarding the possibility of Teuton preparedness.

Two professors of the Paris Psychological Institute claim that the adding machine is a Frankenstein, causing nervous ailments in those who use it. Come to think of it, we have never used one to compute our probable bank balance that it hasn't given us a nervous feeling.

Dreaming that he was in a first fight, a Hoosier hauled off and hit a wall, breaking four or five bones of his right hand. A man subject to dreams so vivid as that should wear a straightjacket, in self-protection.

Thousands of votes cast for the Thompson-Crowe candidates up in Chicago are found to have been fraudulent. Who would have thought that a great American patriot like the Hon. Bill Hale ever would have surrounded himself by henchmen capable of such work as that?

The attorney of a mounted policeman in New York state who confessed to forty-five burglaries, the loot from which was found in his home, asked that the indictment be dismissed because the burglaries hadn't been proved and, that motion denied, asked that his client be acquitted for the same reason. The jury however took but fifteen minutes to return a verdict of guilty, which once again goes to show that, even in this day and age of criminal trials, accidents will happen.

"IS HE TRYING TO HELP US?"

A Mystery to Doctors.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Some of the world's most famous characters have been subject to "fits." Napoleon had them. Needless to say, the greatness of Napoleon did not result from the disease, but was achieved in spite of it. It is a great affliction.

Epilepsy, or "fits," is what we call a "functional disease." That is, there is no visible or discernible cause. In bright disease, for instance, there can be found perfectly evident changes in the kidney. In fatal heart disease the organic defects of that organ can be found.

But epilepsy is different. Scandal can not find or test-tube discover what is wrong. The nervous system is disturbed in some mysterious way. All we know is, that as a result, the victim falls to the ground, unconscious, and usually in convulsions. Some persons who are subject to epileptic attacks have a warning of what is coming. It is brief and so close to the seizure that nothing can be done except to utter a scream or groan. When this familiar sound is heard, it is recognized by the family as a sure sign of what has happened or is about to happen.

On falling to the ground, the victim clenches his hands till his finger nails dig into his palms. He kicks his feet, rolls his eyes upward, and, on account of the disturbed breathing, turns purple in the face.

Quite characteristic of epilepsy is the frothing at the mouth. A foamy lather gathers on the lips. This may become bloody, because most always the victim bites his own tongue.

After a few minutes of struggling, the victim awakens to consciousness or else falls into a natural sleep. When he awakens he is perfectly normal, unless there is a feeling of mental distress and, for a few hours. But, of course, the knowledge that the fear of recurrence and the miserable trouble, this attack does not end the given disease.

Much fruitless study has been given this disease. I have seen wonderful improvement follow the correction of eyestrain. The need of glasses for defective sight or to counteract weakness of the eye muscles, may be responsible for the drainage of nerves energy, shown by warning of epilepsies. But, in many instances this treatment has failed.

I shall not attempt to mention all the suggested causes of epilepsies, but I do wish to speak about causes of epilepsies, but I do wish to speak about causes of epilepsies, but I do wish to speak about causes of epilepsies.

Lately there has been much discussion of the relation of pus absorption, particularly from the large intestine, or elsewhere, to the development of functional nerve and brain disease. If I were to state a given case of epilepsies I should not overlook this possible causative factor.

Not only cases of epilepsies, but even cases of insanity have been overcome by directing treatment to pus infection, particularly in the but, of course, is a suggestion worth following up, and, of course, this idea should not result in neglecting a survey of every other organ. In this way the ultimate cause of the seizures may be located and removed.

Algiers, the Perpendicular.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

There is one portion of the city of Algiers that has remained unchanged for many generations. This is the native quarter of the city. Here the houses are built, crowded one upon the other up the side of a steep hill. This part of the city is laid out in such a way that it is possible to see the flat roof of each house separately. The reason for this is that, in the days of the pirates—and most of the people who lived here were pirates or their slaves—when a vessel was sighted, the entire population of the city was forced to stand on the roofs of the houses, so that the people in the vessel could see there was no spy among them. And we betide the person who stayed below while the city was under surveillance!

So close upon one another are these houses built, that the streets for the passers-by are little more than lanes, some so narrow that three men can hardly walk abreast. The upper stories of the houses are built out over the lower floors, supported by inclined wooden beams. Sometimes there is little more than a yard between two opposite houses, more often they are built entirely across, so that the narrow lane becomes a dead end. Few windows are cut into the houses, and those are heavily barred. Most of the houses, however, have a blank face to the outside world—bare but for the heavily carved door, flanked on each side by a small twisted column, and with a stone crescent carved above it.

But the whole atmosphere of the quarter is full of romance and mystery and eastern magic.—Copyright, 1928, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Editorial Opinion.

MORALITY OF ANIMALS.

In setting themselves apart and above the world of dumb brutes, men have sometimes seemed more brutal than the animals they look down upon. Superior intelligence may not fairly claim, but only too often it has been turned to unworthy purposes. Whether animals are ever able to recognize man's injustice when it occurs we can not be sure, though there is plenty of evidence of revenge upon a cruel master. Justice is perhaps beyond the capacity of an animal to appreciate completely. But it is almost the only moral feeling omitted by Professor James H. Leuba in his discussion of morality among the animals in the June Harper's.

Whatever one's definition of morality, a good case is made out for its existence in animals. Darwin found every conceivable emotion, both good and bad, expressed by beasts. Professor Leuba limits his paper to a consideration of four major aspects of morality as displayed by man and his inferiors. The first of these is the common claim of both to personal property. Birds defend not only their nest but the feeding ground surrounding it. Eagles rule a considerable area from which intruders are excluded. Many apes have playthings which they will permit their fellows to handle, but which must be returned. Often a monkey will take a favorite toy to bed with him every night. In defending their property, whether home, mate, food or toys, animals "do not cautiously measure the strength of their antagonists before giving battle." They rush in like a man who knows he has the right on his side. "Nighttime indignation" is not a bad term to describe their attitude.

It is harder to find a concise expression for the behavior of a domestic animal when scolded by his master. If a dog has never been struck or punished in any way, he will nevertheless fawn and cower when scolded. He will appear to be ashamed if he is caught in disobedience. He is not so much terrified at the physical pain of punishment as troubled—perhaps by conscience! The third trait is helpfulness. Animals are devoted to each other in making their homes, feeding the young and caring for an injured mate or relative. Monkeys, especially the females, will give their own food to others that are ill or hurt, even if they are not related. They also show great sympathy and affection, stroking and petting each other. When a critic suggested that such demonstrations were nothing more than blind parental love, the professor retorted that the human mother's desire to care for her child is the same instinct. She preserves a baby shoe, while the monkey as tenderly guards her infant, even refusing to give up its body if it dies.

Gratitude in animals is often seen. Two monkeys had accidentally been shut out of doors during a cold rain. Professor Kohler, passing their shelter, opened the door for them. Instead of scampering inside at once, "as many a child would have done," they remained long enough to embrace and thank their friend as well as they could.—New York Times.

Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much better the wicked and the sinner.—Proverbs 11:31.
Prayer.—O God, may we by faith in Jesus Christ receive here and hereafter the recompense of the righteous.

A Fish Eden.

BY GARRETT F. SERVICES.

Between Massachusetts and Nova Scotia and stretching from the shores of Maine oceanward to Georges bank, where the sea bottom pitches down two or three thousand feet, lies a great bowl of relatively cold water, separated by a rim of shallows from the warm water at the inner edge of the Gulf stream. This bowl, called the Gulf of Maine, is about 250 miles long and 150 broad, and has a maximum depth below sea level of some 300 feet. Between Georges bank and Brown bank, nearer Nova Scotia, there is a narrow trench in the bottom running out to sea, where, on issuing, the depth breaks down almost at once, to more than 1,400 feet, and then rapidly to 8,000 and more.

There is, of course, an unbroken water-level surface between this curiously enclosed gulf and the sea outside its invisible rim. The line of the rim is determined by Nantucket shoals, Georges bank and Brown bank. Inside that rim lie the "cool green waters of the Gulf of Maine," bordering it on the seaward side is "the warm sapphire-blue Gulf stream." It is with these picturesque terms that Dr. Henry H. Bigelow describes the appearance of the Gulf of Maine in the Geographical Review. As he says, the Gulf of Maine is a sort of back-water from the Atlantic. "Here the cod, haddock, pollock, herring, and all the other fish that make up the 400,000,000 pounds of sea food it yields to man every year, play their roles, insured to seasonal fluctuations, but seldom suffering any fatal variation in temperature." And it, "may well be named a 'promised land' for its inhabitants; it is equable in climate and moderate in salinity; its depths are constant from season to season, and it is well supplied with food, whether animate or dissolved."

On the northeast the Gulf of Maine connects with the Bay of Fundy, and has no issue there, so that its only connection with the Atlantic is along its southern rim. The question is, how does it obtain its relatively low temperature? Hitherto it has been supposed that this was derived directly from an Arctic current flowing along the American coast. But recent exploration has shown that, although the Gulf does receive cold water from a more northern source pouring into it across the "rim" every spring, yet the chief cause of its low temperature is found in local influences. By a seeming paradox, it is the rapid absorption of heat from spring to summer by solar warming that causes the continuance of low temperatures in the deep strata of the gulf throughout the summer. "Sea water is so comparatively opaque to solar radiation of the wavelengths that carry most of the sun's energy that the direct effect of the latter is expended close to the surface. As the surface warms with little change in the deeper strata, the water column tends to become increasingly stable vertically. Unless this process be effectively combated by strong tidal stirring, the underlying water becomes blanketed against thermal influences from above, and the cold of the preceding winter is preserved into autumn."

But where there is a powerful "tidal churning," as in the Bay of Fundy and in Passamaquoddy bay, the temperatures of the deep and the surface become relatively cooler. There the sun's heat is spread through the whole upper fifty meters of water instead of being absorbed by the upper ten to twenty meters. The effect of these local differences upon the inhabitants of different portions of the bowl constitutes one of the most important features of the study of the Gulf of Maine now being prosecuted by the United States fisheries bureau and the Museum of Comparative Zoology at Cambridge.—Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY G. O. MINTY.

New York, May 24.—Traffic experts agree that the only solution of Manhattan's congestion in elevated streets. The problem now is how when and where they will be placed. It is conceded relief must come within the next two years or the main arteries will become hopelessly clogged.

As it is, in midtown frequently becomes a snarl in traffic fiasco that automobile passengers leave their cars with chauffeurs and walk to public transit conveyances to continue their way. The heaviest point of traffic reaches its tide at Columbus circle at 5:30 in the evening.

West street, near the docks, is the only thoroughfare to have an upper stretch of street level. It has proved effective. The big job of raised streets will fall upon owners of real estate along the line of proposed elevation. Their property, it is said, will depreciate more than half.

Those who thought the famed Holland tunnel, bel to New Jersey would provide a noticeable relief in traffic fiasco, do not make the slightest dent. Thousands of suburbanites never bring their autos into the city. They ride to the outskirts and transfer to suburban elevated or surface cars.

Peculiarly enough, traffic hindrances are not discouraged automobile buying among city dwellers, and this year sales reached a new high peak. And with New York's usual impetuosity for overdoing things, the heavier sales were among those block-long cars where the drivers sit out in the rain.

Every feasible suggestion has been tried for relief of traffic to theaters, and still the press is impossible to handle. It is a common sight to see men and women in evening clothes who have left their cars outside the traffic zone walking to the theater, in order not to miss the first act.

New York never had such a season of theatrical hits as the last, and yet a slump in patronage was pronounced, due solely to the fact that many had to wait in the wind and snow and rain often for an hour before the autos could reach them. Traffic is New York's greatest problem.

A freak show on the lower East Side has "Hairless Wonder." He has no eyebrows, hair on his head, beard, mustache or human adornment of any description. But he is not a natural freak. He was a Pittsburgh mill worker up until four years ago, when he stopped in at a night lunch stand for a hot tamale. It was full of ptomaine poisons, powerful they killed all the roots of his hair.

Among the gambling fraternity of Broadway, it is said, there are innumerable laundries and drinkers. It is a drug habit, reputed to be the most difficult of all to detect and it inspires a mental alertness without the visible exhilaration so pronounced in other drugs. No one there the pallor so noticeable among morphine and cocaine addicts.

No romance is so fleeting as those contracted aboard ships. The mystery of the sea, the moon, the stars, and the adventures of a voyage stir the most unromantic pulses. There is the story of a young couple who arrived at a New York pier last week, pledged to undying devotion. The next morning he called her on the telephone crying his feverish expectation.

"I'll be around in a few moments," he gazed, "to go with you for a license."

"Don't be silly," was the yawning reply. "My ocean is making a fool of me this season." And she hung up in his ear.

Some elegant word-mixer should describe New York in a fog with its old silhouettes and arabesques. The metropolis is never more beautiful than when drenched with the mist that seeps up from the harbor.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

If you have indignation you may wonder what is in your stomach. The chances are you will do better to wonder what is in your mind. The best food in the world will not mix with worry.

It is very fortunate for this country that the American legion is the kind of organization it is. Many thought at the conclusion of the World war there would be an organized attitude on the part of the legion to "run the country" for the next four years or so. Instead the American legion, through its leaders made the wise decision it was not in politics and didn't intend to be. For that reason alone for many other reasons it is a great force America today.

The outstanding need in this republic is the need of young men of spirit and idealism. The American legion is made up of young men that kind.

Boston continues to promote the sale of books from time to time by banneting certain works from its stores and libraries. Boston authorities ought to know that nothing is certain to promote sales as a widespread announcement that the library of any particular city has refused to permit a book on shelves. Such action doesn't prevent the book from reaching the people who want it and simply makes the city a part of a silly play which promotes the book's sale. Boston ought to know better.

Truth whether it is in book form, magazine form, newspaper form or motion picture form is what people ought to face and not be afraid of. The thing to be feared in all the media of publicity is not frankness, but inaccuracy.

Much that passes for friendship is not friendship, because it lacks loyalty. When it is dependent on the other man's willingness to love as you believe, or when it is dependent on his ability to deliver a certain kind of favor and nothing else is not real friendship. True friends may remonstrate, criticize and even sometimes condemn. But they never desert.
